Do You Need Mechanical Breakdown Protection?

You paid a lot of money for your vehicle. An extended warranty makes sure you get the most out of your investment by providing protection from unexpected repair costs stemming from mechanical or electrical failure, which can amount to thousands of dollars over the life of your vehicle.

Mechanical Breakdown Protection (MBP) helps you enjoy worry-free driving with nationwide coverage, 24-hour emergency roadside assistance, and rental car assistance. And, you can transfer coverage—a nice incentive should you sell your car before the warranty expires.

MidWest America offers one of the best priced options in the market for this product. Ask about MBP when setting up your next auto purchase or refinance. Certain restrictions apply.
